our region
our giving philanthropy in the greater washington region
In 2010, our region began to see the light at the end of the tunnel after years spent in the ominous darkness of the recession.

In last year’s edition of Our Region, Our Giving, we estimated gains in local funders’ giving and assets in 2010. With final IRS data now available, we are very glad to say that we underestimated.

The following report takes an in-depth look at the latest certified giving data for our region. We explore giving and asset trends in each of the region’s jurisdictions and look at local philanthropic leaders. We also rank the fifty locally-based nonprofits that received the most funding from the region’s grantmakers in four categories: arts and humanities, education, health, and human services.

Finally, we look at estimates of philanthropy in 2011. They suggest that we haven’t yet achieved economic stability. Still, our region’s funders continue to step up to meet the challenges facing our area.

We hope you find this year’s Our Region, Our Giving to be a useful and informative picture of philanthropy in the Greater Washington region.

Best,

Tamara Copeland

about the washington regional association of grantmakers

The Washington Regional Association of Grantmakers promotes and supports effective, strategic, and efficient charitable investment in the Greater Washington region. We partner with governments, businesses, and nonprofits, build strong relationships between grantmakers and grantseekers, and serve as an advocate and voice for philanthropy. Our members include independent foundations, community foundations, charitable trusts, corporate foundations, and corporate giving programs.

about the report

Our Region, Our Giving features the latest available comprehensive foundation data for the Greater Washington region. Data becomes available roughly 15 months after the end of a calendar year due to variations in fiscal years and time needed to gather data from IRS forms.

Data research for this report was conducted by the Foundation Center on behalf of the Washington Regional Association of Grantmakers, with the exception of the Top Corporate Givers 2011 list, which was originally published in the Washington Business Journal on 5.11.12.

Sampling base for giving and asset data: The Foundation Center’s database includes all non-terminated independent, corporate, community, and operating foundations. Sources of data for these foundations include IRS information returns (Form 990-PF), foundation reports, and information reported to the Foundation Center on annual surveys of selected foundations. Assets are stated at market value. Total giving amount includes grants, scholarships, and employee matching gifts. It does not include all qualifying distributions, e.g., loans, PRIs, set-asides, and program or other administrative expenses.

Sampling base for top area grant recipients: This search set is based on the Foundation Center’s circa 2010 grants sample database, which includes all grants of $10,000 or more awarded to organizations by a sample of 1,384 of the largest private and community foundations. For community foundations, only discretionary and donor-advised grants are included. Grants to individuals are not included in the file. Recipients are determined to be eligible for these lists based on their location and funding received from locally-based funders.

Region: For this report, the Greater Washington region consists of Washington, D.C.; Calvert, Charles, Frederick, Montgomery, and Prince George’s counties in the state of Maryland; Arlington, Clarke, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, Spotsylvania, Stafford, and Warren counties as well as City of Alexandria, City of Fairfax, City of Falls Church, City of Fredericksburg, and City of Manassas in the state of Virginia.
This report was made possible through generous support from Capital One.
